

I took Credit Training with Dave to learn more about business loan underwriting, and it was an invaluable professional experience. Prior to taking the course, I had just lost my job of 12 years as a financial analyst, analyzing active commercial loans. I was contemplating whether to merely continue on the same career path, or embark on something new for professional growth. I learned about the area of credit analysis through a friend, found it to be interesting, and decided to pursue formal training in the subject. However, the only classes that were being offered were seminars, spanning a few days to two weeks, or online courses, which didn't interest me.

Eventually, I was very fortunate to learn of Dave's Credit Training class. His four-month long class provided me with a thorough understanding of credit analysis, and it gave my career a significant boost. For example, my salary, which had been fairly stagnant, has increased thirty percent (30%) since I took the class in 2015. As an instructor, Dave has the unique ability to take a complex topic and break it down into more simplistic and understandable terms. He also truly cares about the success of his students, maintaining contact with them and availing himself as a resource after the course concludes. To this day, he continues to be a resource if I have any credit questions or issues.

Without hesitation, I highly recommend Dave's Credit Training class to anyone interested in credit analysis.
